From the President

Members will notice a change in how the Grapevine is presented over the past few months. We would welcome any comments to help improve the format. The idea is to deliver an electronic friendly format linking to websites websites for more detail. We are also looking for someone to take over the Editorship of the Grapevine from Peter. He has done his time with hard labour and looking for a break to play more golf and travel (to wine areas naturally). You will need to be familiar with the internet and be able to be trained in updating information on our website. It will take a few hours a week compiling articles and editing submissions from members. The involvement is guaranteed to increase your wine knowledge greatly.

John Nenke has been active again in organising two great dinners. Firstly the South African Wine dinner and then “Next Generation from the Barossa” Thank you John.

The committee is working on a few new things at present and hope to have news soon. I am always open to ideas to improve what we do for members. Let me know

The theme for April club night was “Wines from Margaret River. Guild Members chose wines wisely and as you can see from the table the scoring for wine quality was very high- befitting such a great region for wine. “Western Australia continues to enjoy a growing international reputation for the production of premium quality wines.”

Accolades at international wine exhibitions and in publications are abundant. Natural advantages such as the climate and soils, ideally suited to the production of premium quality wine grapes in a clean environment, make Western Australia an ideal place to supply quality wine to domestic and international markets.

Western Australia is a small but significant player in the national wine scene, particularly at the premium end of the market. It produces five per cent of Australian wine, but because of a strong commitment to the premium and ultra premium wine market, Western Australia represents at least ten per cent of total value. In contrast to the Eastern States, where large and diverse industry produces wine to meet the demands of the full range of market segments, the Western Australian industry is highly focused, producing virtually no cask or flagon wine.”

Barossa Valley Night- New Generations April 29

By John Nenke and Ross Sharp
After spending the Christmas/New Year in the mid north of South Australia Burra and Clare John sourced wines for the Wine Guild function at Black Pearl on April 29th. What a night and what a special contribution from John for the Wine Guild. Attendance of 32 members and there were many good comments on the quality of the wine and the night.

The theme of the night was "Wine made by sons of famous winemakers in the Barossa region, plus a few who didn't fit the description, to make up the numbers.

The event was extremely well attended with 32 members and guests, all of whom expressed satisfaction with the quality of the wines sourced by John Nenke, the delightful food (once again) planned, sourced and cooked by Lee Booker and the expert commentary from Bruce Humphery-Smith and local Barossa knowledge added by John.

The quality of the wines right across the range on offer was testament to the expertise being handed down from fathers to sons, and more proof that the Barossa is one of the finest wine growing regions in Australia, if not the world.

Huge accolades must go to John Nenke for travelling down to the Barossa and personally sourcing all the wines. I'm sure it was an arduous task, selecting which wines to buy for the night, and I wish I also could have been there.

John had sent up locally produced Metwurst and Dill pickles, as part of the starters antipasto platter, and Lee Booker, once again, excelled with the menu, which was as follows:

Confit of Duck, with caramelized onion and green beans, served with shiraz jus.

Pear & Hazelnut Tart with double cream.

Ashmore and Cheddar cheese

Hand-made Chocolate Truffles.

Well done Lee, your efforts were widely appreciated.

The tasting included Eight (8) brackets as follows:

Bracket A.

1. 2009 Fernfield Wines - Riesling. Eden Valley $20.00
   Good, but not as mild on the palate and not as flavoursome as most Eden Valley or Clare Rieslings. John rates their Pridmore Shiraz as their best wine.

2. 2008 Gumpara Wines - Old Vine Semillon $20.00
   Location – Lights Pass. Wine maker is Mark Mader. From 90 y.o. vines. Tasting notes from Gampara say “A wine of intense aroma and flavours, ranging from more subtle pea pod and apple, progressing hay bale, lime/citrus with more developed flavours of Guava, tropical fruit and honey.. Cellar for up to 10 years. Bruce H-S rated this highly. I found it less intense than a typical Hunter Semillon.

3. 2009 Tscharke - Girl Talk Savagnin $21.00
Located at Marananga, Tscharke is a 4.5 – 5 star winery, and this wine proves that, even if this variety was light on flavour for me. It would be a good wine to serve with lunch on a warm day. Promoted more discussion among members than any other wine. Variety was not picked by participants. Damien Tscharke was the first to import Alborino, and still believes that is what it is. He also brought in Montepulciana – both varieties can do well in a hot, dry climate. (He is anticipating global warming)
A good example of the variety – aromatic, clean, easy drinking, but prompted a mixed reaction around the room.

Bracket B.

4  Nv Jamabro Wines - Spiraz Sparkling Shiraz $20.00
Located at Tanunda – Marananga. This was rated as an excellent drink and great value for money at the price. Won a Gold medal and Trophy at the 2008 Barossa Wine Show. From 40 y.o. vines.

5  2009 Small Fry Wines - Tempranillo Garnacha Joven $20.00
Located at Vine Vale, the wine-maker is Wayne Ahrens, who has spent some time in Spain learning their grape varieries and methods. This wine is made without time on oak and is meant to be drunk young. In fact, 'Joven' means young in Spanish. Another good wine with lunch.

Bracket C.

6  2007 Schwarz Wine Company - Thiele Road Grenache $26.00
Located at Bethany. This wine is made from vines planted in 1946 and it shows. The tasting notes describe it as "A spicy little beast with (vibrant aromas of) red licorice, heady five spice, grilled meats and kirsch with some lifted raspberry and violet top-notes. There is a hint of gingerbread in there too."
Also “The palate is awash with liquored red cherry and red plum fruit, enveloped in warm spice flavours – five spice, cardamon and ginger – it;'s earthy and finishes brightly with a ripe tannin structure.and good balance and drive.”
James Halliday rated it “...has more definition to the spicy red fruits, and less outright confection flavour...better than many Barossa counterparts. Rating 91, drink to 2013.”
Popular with the participants.

7  2007 Rusden Wines - Full Circle Mataro $45.00
Located at Vine Vale, the wine maker is Christian Canute. This is a highly rated vineyard family owned by the Canutes. They make a small range of 9 quality wines developed since the '80's, and have a well developed export market in the US.
I must have been either talking or eating (or perhaps both) when this wine and the next were poured as I have not written any impressions, sorry guys.
From the web site, the winemaker states:
I've got to say, the 04 and 05 Full Circle caused the biggest stir since I released the 1998 Black Guts. The 06 delivers in every way fans expect, and still holds its place as the dark side of the family.
2006 Kurtz Family Vineyards - Boundary Row GSM – grenache  $18.00

Located at Lights Pass, as their name implies this is winery owned by the Kurtz family. The vineyard was started in 1936 and has passed through 4 generations to the current owner, and wine-maker. It is a Haliday 4 star winery. Vivid ruby colour. Sexy bouquet of fresh red berries, cherry preserves, flowers and Asian spices. Round and sappy, offering concentrated but lively red and dark berry and spice flavours, with fully integrated tannins. This is inviting right now and I'd be tempted to enjoy it on the young side.

Bracket D.

9 2003 Diggers Bluff - Watch Dog Cabernet Shiraz  $32.00

2003 Diggers Bluff - Watch Dog Cabernet Shiraz $32.00 This wine is produced at the small company owned winery at Seppeltsfield, and is rated 4.5 stars by Haliday. The company is owned by Tim O'Callaghan, the son of famous Barossa wine-maker, Robert of Rockford Wines, and the quality of this wine shows he has learned well. He produces only small quantities of this wine and ages it for 6 years before release, so the price is exceptional given the quality. Made from Cabernet Sauvignon – 66% (30 y.o.vines) and Shiraz – 34% (80 y.o. vines), he produced only 487 dozen bottles.

The wine has a wonderful, long palate and great acid balance, which not only feels good in the mouth, but ensures the wine will age well. The nose tells of a rich, sweet and complex wine with a hint of Vanilla. It follows with a palate that does not disappoint, with smooth soft tannins that just last and last.

10 2004 David Franz-Lehmann – Alexandra’s Reward Cabernet Shiraz  $35.00

Based at Tanunda, David Franz-Lehmann is the son of the famed Peter Lehmann. David is a very modern marketer (some would say right out there), but makes superb wines to back up the hype. His web site states he is passionate about producing top quality wines, and his focus is on producing top quality fruit and no compromises in the processes required to get the wine in the bottle. The wine is aged for 4 years in barrel and bottle before being offered to market.
Both the wines in this group rated very highly with the group, but no clear winner emerged.
A visit to his web site is the best way to get an understanding of David's wine making philosophy, his superb wines and his unique marketing methods.

Bracket E.

11
2005
Rosenvale - Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon
$39.00

Located in Nuriootpa, this family owned winery is rated by Haliday at 4.5 stars. Originally used for mixed farming, the Rosenzweig family purchased it in 1966 and planted the first vines. James Rosenzweig is a self-taught wine maker with help from a consultant for quality control. This wine is rated at 93 pts. by James Haliday and 5 stars in winestate Magazine. His Shiraz is served in First Class, and the Semillon in Economy by British Airways. The group rated it a very good wine.

12
Troll Creek - Cabernet Sauvignon
$55.00

Based at Bethany, the owner is James Hage, and his wines are made by Christian Canute.
Troll Creek notes on this wine are:

From Vigneron, James Hage. “vines pruned back to single wire trellise, hand spurred to 20-25 spurs per vine. Yielding 2 tonne per acre. Warmer ripening conditions than '04 saw the fruit hand picked on March 25th., giving rich flavour some fruit with pea sized berries at 15.1 baume.

From winemaker Christian Canute: 'Aged 30 months in one use French (50%) and new American (50%) oak barriques. 2005 was a great year for Cabernet, this single vineyard grown on Biscay at Bethany shows great fruit and cassis flavours. The palate is rich, long and silky due to extended the ageing. Age 10-15 years. Closed with premium grade natural cork.

Personally, I was intrigued at the flavour, which was unlike any Cabernet I had tasted. My first impression was licorice and 'floral', with little of the typical mint/menthol flavour. However, it was a gorgeous wine to drink and was the equal - best rated wine from the group.

Both Cabernets in this group were outstanding wines.

Bracket F.

2007
Linke Wines - Barossa Valley Shiraz
$22.00

Located at Stonewell, this winery is a small producer, bottling only 500 cases of Semillon/Sauvignon Blanc, Shiraz & Cabernet Sauvignon. Owned by Barry Linke, son Scott Linke is the winemaker.

We all liked the wine, but unfortunately the web site is not yet functional and we have no tasting notes.
14  2006  Heidenreich Estate - The Old School Principals Shiraz $26.50
This winery is owned by Noel & Cheryl Heidenreich and is located at Vine Vale. Noel started making his own wine in 1998 following years of selling his grapes to larger wineries. The vineyard was first planted in 1936 by Noel's father, Rufus, and has been added to since, the latest acquisition in 2000.

They produce two ranges of wines, and both feature powerful reds of 15% alc.

The wine that we tasted was rated as excellent, and Bruce Humphrey-Smath said it was “out there” and probably aged in American oak.

15  2006  Neil Hahn Wines - Catharina Shiraz $29.00
Based at Lights Pass, Neil Hahn employs a consultant winemaker, so is more a vigneron working the vines on 130 acres which were first planted in 1885.

The 2002 vintage of this wine rated in the top 5 wines in Winestate Magazine and this vintage boasts a silver medal in the 2008 Wine Style Asia Awards, and 4 stars in Winestate.

The group at our table rated it as soft and luscious, and excellent value for money at $29.

Bracket G.

16  2008  Kalleske – Moppa Shiraz $28.00
Located at Moppa, near Greenock, winemaker Troy Kalleske is a 7th. Generation winemaker and works the families vines dating back to 1853 (Shiraz), in partnership with his brother, Tony. He uses 60% of the family vineyard for his wines, which are now certified organic. His range includes top shelf Eduard Shiraz selling for $75 and the Johan George Shiraz at $100. In 2008 he was awarded the ‘Barons of Barossa’ Award for Winemaker of the Year. The vineyard is certified organic.

This wine has a trace of Viognier and Petit Verdot added, giving it a contemporary edge, according to the tasting notes. The few grapes still on the vines when the great heat-wave of March 2008 hit were partially dehydrated and gave the wine a rich intensity and concentration.

The attendees rated the wine as excellent and again great value at the price.

17  2006  Laughing Jack Wines - Greenock Shiraz $38.00
This wine is made by Shaun Kalleske, father of Troy and Tony. He is a self taught winemaker and naturally, also uses grapes grown on the family property.
This wine is straight Shiraz and the grapes are sourced from all 4 vineyards on the Greenock and Moppa blocks. At 15% it is a powerful wine, and is intense black/ruby in appearance.

The tasting notes state:

Aroma: vibrant blackberry, mulberry and plum fruit are harmonious with sweet leather, clove, cedary oak, roasted hazelnuts and black pepper.
Palate: Rich black fruits are integrated beautifully with dark licorice, chocolate and cedar. A tight core of acid and ripe grippy tannins leaves a full, lingering finish.

It needs time in the bottle to bring out the best and can be cellared for up to 20 years.

However, it is drinking well now and I rated it my favourite wine of the night.

Bracket H.

18 2004 Tscharke - Lumberjack Vintage Fortified – Touriga Nacional
Damien Tscharke used the Touriga Nacional grapes from his fathers Seppeltsfield vines and they were wild-yeast fermented in open fermenters prior to basket pressing using traditional methods. The un-oaked fortified was finally bottle matured. The palate is smooth and brooding, with succulent sweet fruit, blackcurrant, licorice and black tea flavours.
Indigenous to Portugal, the Touriga Nacional grape is the finest and most complete grape for producing vintage port, according to their web site notes.
Rated 90 points by Halliday and 94 by Campbell Mattinson.

19 Nv Dutschke - Sun Dried Shiraz
Located at Lyndoch, and now owned by Ken Dutschke, the property was originally purchased by his father Oscar Semmler in the early 1930's who planted a few vines, but it wasn't until 1970 when Ken took over the property that grape vines started replacing the farming and grazing land and the first Shiraz grapes were planted and now totals 45 acres (one third of the total), along with Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon and Chardonnay. Most of the production is sold to Mildara Wolf Blass and Krondorf, but since 1990, an ever increasing tonnage is being kept for the (now) Dutschke brand wines. Ken's son Wayne is the winemaker.

Only 2 hogsheads of this fortified wine are made each year.

From the tasting notes on the web:
My love for great Aussie fortifieds has led me to produce something quite unique. A real Liqueur Shiraz! Shiraz grapes were left to hang and whither on the vine, shrivelling and concentrating the sugars and grape flavours. Harvested as raisins, crushed into small picking bins and then fortified with neutral grape spirit during the initial stages of ferment, we were able to trap and preserve the wonderfully intense characters of the super ripe Shiraz grape.

Sun Dried Shiraz is thick and viscous, with plenty of rich flavours of raisins, black currant, liquorice, plums and a few other red berry fruits. It's lusciously sweet with plenty of warm alcohol.
Please note there is a list of the wines tasted and the respective WEB SITE LINKS on back page of this issue.

COONAWARRA TRIP

Ross Sharp is organising a trip to the Coonawarra wine region from Friday 23rd July 2010 to Friday 30th July. These are the arrival and departure dates.

Shared accommodation in the main town of Penola, in new 2 bedroom cottages (X3) and possibly 2 other modern houses if required, accommodating both couples, singles and shared bedrooms. Other options are also available, all within close walking distance of around 50 metres, and within 50 metres of the main shopping area and the main street of Penola. All houses have full cooking facilities, so breakfasts, some lunches and even dinners can be self-catered if desired. All have either R/C air-conditioning or fire places. There are excellent restaurants and a pub in Penola, all within easy walking distance.

As the cost of flying into Mt. Gambier (50 Kms from Penola) is prohibitive, it is suggested that flying into Adelaide and hiring Ford Falcon size cars (for luggage capacity) to share between 4 would be the best option. The drive from Adelaide to Penola is approx. 4 hours, so an early arrival in Adelaide is recommended.

July in the Coonawarra is their Cellar Dweller month, where they bring out aged wine for tasting and sale, and as it is a quiet month, they are prepared to put on special functions for us. I have a long list of wineries organising ‘meet the winemaker’ winery tours, tastings and food, from cheese platters to a BBQ lunch at Majella, lunch at Katnook Estate and Leconfield and a 4 course lunch at Di Giorgio (I am told to write-off the afternoon at this one, as the Italian owners love to entertain) and dinners. All the major wineries are happy to have us, and I have allowed 2 hours for each. The itinerary is still being finalised, but I have allowed 7 full days there, as there are 24 cellar doors and we still won’t be able to fit everyone in. One highlight of the trip will be a vertical tasting of the Yalumba ‘The Menzies” Cab. Sauv., and I’m sure there will be quite a few others. The Thursday night final event is a ‘cooking with wine’ demonstration followed by dinner.

The estimated cost from Adelaide to Adelaide will be under $1000 per head, including accommodation, car hire and fuel, all organised function meals, cooked breakfasts of your choice (normal motel range) and winery functions. Extra costs will be most dinners, some lunches, and wine purchases – choices, choices!!

Please email me at ross_sharp@bigpond.com or phone 38787781 with your expression of interest and any questions you may have. Also let me know if you prefer to make your own way to Penola, or want to share a hire car from Adelaide airport.

I have advised everyone in Coonawarra that we expect 15 to 20 people, so we may have to cap the number if interest exceeds that too much. First in- first served!
Keep a look out for the Grapevine July / August Issue out late in July.
